

Swift_Soul

Oh, this book? This is diary where I write about my experiences here in Delta. Wanna take a read?

LOG 1

Hello! I am Swift_Soul and as of today... Well I got nothing. Woke up in a birch forest with Cute_Dragon and Strong_Tea. We all agreed that sleeping in the forest may not be the best idea. So we decided to wander around all day until we found more people to set up a place we would call home. Eventually, down the river, we saw a spruce forest with an island with some people living on it. Least we don't have to worry about dying so soon. Eventually that island would grow to have a big skybase on it while having some farms and mines on the island itself. I knew I had to take a niche. Previously fighting mobs before, I chose to be a hunter. Willing to protect any Deltan or traveler around. That's how my story in Delta started.

LOG 2

Hello! I am Swift_Soul and as of today... I'm doing well for myself. The nation I reside in has gotten organized to the point where we realised... We need some proper leadership, and a name! We all first decided it to be Solar_Ash. Someone who cared for our people deeply while being a great speaker with diplomacy. We also decided maybe being a 1 man dictatorship may not be good in the long run so we also picked Burnt_Rabbit. Our main blacksmith who indiscriminately gave out copper gear to anyone. Although reluctant at first, she decided to settle with internal minister, complementing Solar as the foreign minister. Solar knowing our status as a trading civilization, Diplomacy for trade and diplomacy for war should be far different from eachother. Solar then decided to pick me as the Defense minister to defend all our people. I was honored to accept. One more person stood out when it comes to leadership... Honest_Horse. He may not be the most competent but everyone agreed on something. DO NOT go within 3 blocks of him unless you want to get lava'ed. We gave him the Safe role since we knew nobody would even try to steal from someone that dangerous. Thus our 3 consul system was born. Though officially not on paper, it would be in defacto practice for a long time.

LOG 3

Hello! I am Swift_Soul and as of today... I have been trusted with co leading my nation. I have done a good job in killing some drowned who threaten our builders with expanding our nation. It would all be successful in the end as with them building our walls, we got to massively expand our area as a nation. One of the first things we built were a fountain and a clocktower. Now looking at this I had an idea. To put our ideals on paper and to spread it to everyone else. Looking at the farms, Seeing Loyal_Axolotl grind xp or seeing Cute_Dragon forever hoeing the same dirt block, I saw peace in them. Looking at the skybase, I saw Burnt_Rabbit distributing copper armor to anyone and everyone. I saw equality in the act. Looking at the fountain, I saw Solar negotiating to trade a bee hive for a lot of diamonds. I saw prosperity. Peace, Equality, and Prosperity. Our ideals of the constitution for many to follow.

LOG 4

Hello! I am Swift_Soul and as of today... I have written the most important document in our nation. Knowing my role as a hunter, I need to do my job the same as everyone else had. Recently, a portal to a hellish landscape with twisted structures had opened. Rumor from other nations suggests these structures had netherite inside. I built up a 3 man team of me, Starry_Rain, and Wild_Flower. Together we would conquer the structures and gain their loot. After much caution and diligence, we managed to collect a lot of netherite. Most was pooled to Honest but something was given to me. A sharp 5 netherite sword. "You're the defender after all" They argued. I accepted.

LOG 5

Hello! I am Swift_Soul and as of today... I have some enemies. Recently, there have been some thieves stealing all our iron using contraband invisibility potions. Solar managed to recognize them somehow so a trial was held. Foggy_Fox was tried with permanently staying in a specific area within Delta. He was not the guy. The real thief will come back. I was right. While me Burnt_Rabbit, and Honest_Horse were hanging out, Manic_Cat, Strong_Mouse, and the real thief Bright_Bungle had come to kill us. The other 2 were spared. I wasn't as lucky.

Well what a read eh? That's all you have to know about me but I am still only one person to the dozens here in Delta. Maybe check out some others?
